

AWS ECS Load balancer Lab

Create an ECS Cluster that must task from a service.

The service should be created from a task definition that has an apache image.

Ensure that there is a load balancer implemented that will make it possible to reach any of the container at a time.

Ensure you are using the fargate type.